RYAN MCGINLEY "BODY LOUD"
Galerie Perrotin, Paris
13 November 2013 – 11 January 2014

Galerie Perrotin is delighted to present "Body Loud", an exhibition by Ryan McGinley, comprised of over twenty brand new, primarily large-format photographs taken over the course of last summer. This is his first show with the gallery.

Since 2005, McGinley has spent each summer developing his ongoing body of road-trip photographs. He and his crew travel the country to capture non-professional models in a variety of natural settings. The production of these images has evolved greatly since their inception—what began as fly-on-the wall documentation now consists of rigorous and intense production schedules, elaborate safety precautions, and mobile studio lighting. The situations are meticulously staged, although the resultant images are not: McGinley's practice still allows for and thrives upon spontaneity.

The Daelim Museum, in Seoul, is presenting "Magic Magnifier," a comprehensive survey of Ryan McGinley's work, running from November 7, 2013, to February 23, 2014.

Ryan McGinley is a New York-based artist who was raised in New Jersey and moved to the city in 1996. In 2003, at age 25, Ryan McGinley was the youngest artist to receive a solo exhibition at The Whitney Museum of American Art ("The Kids Are Alright"). McGinley's work is featured in numerous museum collections, including the Guggenheim Museum, New York, the Smithsonian's National Portrait Gallery, Washington and the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art. He has been the subject of monographic exhibitions at the Kunsthalle in Vienna, MUSAC in Leon, Spain, and MOMA PS1 in New York. He has had numerous one-man gallery and museum exhibitions around the world.

RYAN MCGINLEY « BODY LOUD »
Galerie Perrotin, Paris
13 novembre 2013 – 11 janvier 2014

« Body Loud » est la première exposition de Ryan McGinley à la Galerie Perrotin ; elle réunit un ensemble de plus de 20 photographies inédites, la plupart de grand format, réalisées cet été.

Depuis 2005, Ryan McGinley développe chaque été un corpus de photographies issues de ses périples. Il voyage avec son équipe à travers le pays pour capturer les corps des modèles non professionnels au milieu d'abondants paysages naturels. La production des ces images a beaucoup évolué depuis les débuts. Ce qui était au départ une documentation prise sur le vif est désormais un processus rigoureux, encadré et intense qui s'accompagne de véritables lumières de studio. Les compositions sont méticuleusement mises en scène, bien que les images qui en résultent ne le soient pas : la pratique de McGinley autorise et cultive la spontanéité.

Le Daelim Museum, à Séoul, présente une exposition personnelle « Magic Magnifier » du 7 novembre 2013 au 23 février 2014.

Ryan McGinley, né dans le New Jersey, réside à New York depuis 1996. En 2003, à l'âge de 25 ans, Ryan McGinley est le plus jeune artiste à présenter une exposition personnelle au Whitney Museum of American Art (« The Kids Are Alright »). L'oeuvre de Ryan McGinley figure dans de nombreuses collections, dont le Guggenheim Museum, New York, The Smithsonian's National Portrait Gallery, Washington and the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art. Il a fait l'objet de rétrospectives à la Kunsthalle de Vienne, au MUSAC à Leon, en Espagne, et au MoMA PS1, New York. D'importantes expositions personnelles ont été montrées dans des galeries et musées à travers le monde.
